Out of Time

Due out April 2019

What can I offer your school?

I offer workshops inspired by my time travel adventure series, Time Shifters, a Gold winner in The Wishing Shelf Book Awards 2017, judged by 25 children from eight London primary schools.

My workshops are focused around time travel, which can include periods throughout history and the future. They are creative and practical, allowing pupils to explore ideas and how to tell stories.

Workshops can be tailored to individual classes or year groups, and are suitable for Years 5 and 6. I offer 1 hour workshops or more in-depth half day sessions.

How will your pupils benefit?

My workshops help young people to understand that anyone can write and be creative. In a supportive environment pupils will be able to explore their own ideas through creative writing.

The workshops can be tailored to the curriculum and what individual classes are studying. Pupils will learn and think about history in an engaging way, and be encouraged to use their imagination.

*"I liked imagining what it would be like in different eras because you could be creative."

Who am I?

I'm a Bristol-based author of children's and adult fiction with a MA in Creative Writing from Bath Spa University where I've also taught lifewriting to Creative Writing undergraduates.

I've taken part in the Hawkesbury Upton Literature Festival in the children's Bookworm tent, and I was on the Writing for Children panel at the Oakwood Literature Festival in Derby. I'm passionate about young people having the opportunity to engage in reading, writing and being creative.
